Abstract

Glenn Zwegardt is teaching a week-long hot metal casting and molding workshop at the Georgia Southern University Sculpture studio. He has been with us since Monday and will be available through Thursday.

Energetic and full of humorous stories, Glenn has been teaching various mold making and casting techniques – from resin-bonded-sand and ceramic-shell investment to alloying silicone bronze to creating flexible molds.

For 38 years, Glenn Zwegardt has been an active sculptor and educator. With more than 50 solo exhibitions to his name, Glenn shows work both nationally and internationally. His sculptures are included in many university, museum, outdoor, and private collections.

Currently an emeritus Professor of Sculpture at the New York State College of Ceramics and Alfred University, he remains active in his studio located in Alfred Station, NY. His sculptures often include combinations of metal, stone, and glass. They range from monumental outdoor pieces to small, intimate works.

Moulton, Marc Edwin (Co-Principal), Grant, "Sculpture Trails Traveling Foundry," Sponsored by College Life Enrichment Committee, CLEC, Georgia Southern University, $4,000.00. (January 1, 2009 - December 31, 2009).

Abstract

What is a traveling foundry you may ask? According to Webster's dictionary: a foundry is the act, process, or art of casting metals. The Sculpture Trails, out of Solsberry Indiana, will bring their foundry to you. The crew will literally melt aluminum right before your eyes. They travel with a foundry. No kidding! They'll travel to your high school, art museum, general public workshop or festivals. It is a very rare opportunity.

"What is great about a traveling foundry is that everyone can participate. It's not just art. It's fun for the whole family. The pieces YOU create last a life time." Math, science and art can be incorporated in the days discussion or just doing something a little different is nice too.

Honestly, have you ever seen a traveling foundry? Have you ever made something from molten aluminum? Carving the design out of a sand block, called a scratch block, is fun for all ages. The sculpture crew fills it with molten aluminum. When its cool, you have a handsome piece of art.
